TPC-N1	Tai Tong	 A photograph showing the interior of a room, likely a community center or a small shop. The room has a corrugated metal ceiling with several red lanterns hanging from it. There is a round table in the foreground, and a doorway leading to another room is visible in the background. The walls are decorated with various items, including a calendar and some posters.
TPC-N2	Plover Cove (Extension) Country Park	 A photograph of an outdoor park area. The scene is dominated by lush green trees and foliage. A paved path leads through the trees, and there are some stone markers or signs on the ground. The lighting suggests it is daytime, with sunlight filtering through the leaves.
