

Max

To: hats@etwb.gov.hk

Subject:

17/09/2004 12:33

The government is wasting a lot of money cleaning the harbour .. why not spend the money educating people instead .. it's a collective responsibility unless the people are aware the cleaning will be of no use .. the water will get polluted again by the very same people ..

The government should spend the money in providing free health care and things which are really useful to the people ...

- Max